Letter from Gerrit Smith to Gen Grant

Gerrit Smith has written the letter addressed to President Grant under date of November 4th. We quote the material part of the letter:

The chief thing for which I thank you is your [illegible] hundred thousands [illegible] your Administration [illegible] recognition of the equal rights of all races [illegible].

I say rightly by being the man [illegible]. In stead of an other and by its faithful warm hearted and successful administration our country of this [illegible]. What your Administration shall be [illegible] their respects [illegible] Confident however [illegible] right [illegible] will [illegible] Democratic party [illegible] rights of all [illegible] slavery [illegible] every other [illegible] infinitely less than the sweeping [illegible]. I said that the party was in favor of robbery [illegible] party of the past only. It was not killed by the vote of yesterday. It was killed when slavery was killed. In losing slavery it lost its tap root—its indispensable nourishment. Its partial resurrection was only because of the reanimation of slavery. The prospect of the reanimation was blighted yesterday, and this pro-slavery Democratic party has therefore fallen back into its grave never again to rise nor even attempt to rise from it. Many a Democratic party there may hereafter be in our country—but none of them will be a pro-slavery party and therefore none of them will be like this party which was killed several years ago and lost yesterday all hope of a resurrection. Yesterday's vote left no room for a pro-slavery party either now or hereafter. More emphatically than this [illegible] if the measures and influence of your Administration shall be withering and fatal to the caste spirit, to that spirit which more than all else begets and fosters slavery.

Entirely reasonable is the confidence that your Administration will maintain the rights of all the races of men, will not fail of responding to all the essential claims of justice. Of no wrong to the nation's creditors will it be guilty. For universal suffrage it will be unyielding, not merely because as the right to life, liberty and property is natural, so is participation in the choice of those at whose official disposal these possess so largely lie must also be a natural right, but because all have seen that nothing short of the ballot in the hands of those who have recently emerged from slavery can save them from being thrust back into it. The Governments which President Johnson set up in the South recognized no political rights in black men, and straightway these Governments set to work to re-enslave them. It matters not, as regards my argument, that this new slavery was not literal chattel slavery. It had none of the alleviations incident to chattel slavery, and was on the whole more oppressive and cruel.

In this connection let me add that far above all the other good which will come from the purging of the nation of this malignant and cruel caste spirit will be the removal thereby of the greatest obstacle in the way of the Christian religion. For the spirit of this religion cannot dwell in the heart that cherishes the hatred of race. And then what is much as the spirit of this religion of nature and reason, justice and goodness prepares the bosom to welcome sound political principles and to cultivate sound political sentiments.

I saw in your letter of August 1863 that you had not in your early life made human rights one of your studies. Nevertheless that in the high office in which you were chosen yesterday you will prove yourself to be their enlightened impartial and successful defender I cannot doubt. For in the martyred and immortal Lincoln, you are above the stupidity of not being able to change, and above the weakness of being ashamed to change. Indeed while in your letter to which I have referred you say that formerly you had not been an Abolitionist—not even what could be called anti-slavery—you do in the same letter acknowledge yourself to have advanced so far as to insist on the abolition of slavery and on there being no peace which permits the existence of slavery. Moreover in another of your letters written in the same month, you reach the altitude of declaring that Human liberty is the only foundation of human government. Better still is your recent declaration to Mr Colfax that in your Presidency we shall have the strong arm of the Executive, representing the will and majesty of a mighty people, declaring and insuring to every citizen, black or white, rich or poor, be he humble or exalted, the safeguard of the nation and protecting him from every wrong with the shield of our national strength. But best of all to prove your discernment and appreciation of human rights and your fidelity to them was your acceptance of your nomination and of the righteous principles of the Republican party. The grandest of all these principles is not slavery but universal suffrage for the ballot is the mightiest protection of its possessor not only from slavery but from every other wrong. That universal suffrage is one of the principles of the Republican party is manifest from its being set up in the District of Columbia. Had this party as clear a constitutional right to set it up in the loyal States all those States would also have been blessed with it. The setting of Congress on the question of suffrage in the disloyal States was under the law of war—was the exercise of the right of the conqueror.

Nor in your early life did you take the lead in saving a nation. But when the time came for you to do so you did so and did so successfully, triumphantly. Nor in early life had you heard the call to help drive out of your country this mean and murderous antagonism of races. Since then however you have heard it, and have been heeding it. And now safely can your country rely on your wisdom and justice for what the she requires at your hands. These qualities [illegible] and a full [illegible] all the claims which your country has [illegible] heartfully will they need the [illegible]. He who has brought you to the [illegible] ready for such a [illegible] your true work, and give you head, heart and hand to do it.

I cannot forbear saying that no small ground of my rejoicing in your election is your charitable judgment and generous treatment of the South. Warmly did I approve the easy terms on which you allowed Gen Lee to surrender. Your subsequent report of the temper of the South after a too hasty tour through it showed me that you were capable of forming even a charitable judgment. Even a report far too favorable as this report was thought to be it nevertheless would have been borne out to a high degree had not these had men among the leaders of the North [illegible] held back the South from accepting the situation and pushed her forward [illegible] the [illegible] and preposterous [illegible] for the conquered the right [illegible] dictate the terms to the conqueror. And how much more [illegible] those terms than that [illegible] would again [illegible] for the fee [illegible] who had taken up arms to destroy her [illegible] had taken up arms to save her. No fear need be entertained that in your undertaking [illegible] between the North and the South you will lay all the blame of our civil war upon the South. Inasmuch as the North is scarcely less [illegible] than the South for slavery [illegible] judge rightly [illegible] that she is scarcely less [illegible] for the war which grew out of it. Wherever there is a man who [illegible] to be among the enemy [illegible] this country was [illegible] disabilities there is a [illegible] who [illegible] would relieve [illegible] as soon as [illegible] that he has again [illegible] friend. But on the other hand you will regard [illegible] as the friend of this country who wars upon [illegible] caste [illegible] who [illegible] because [illegible] neighbor [illegible] the [illegible].

I [illegible] my letter with saying that I [illegible] the [illegible] of your administration will [illegible]. [illegible] the spirit [illegible] peace which [illegible] the North and the South and this peace because founded [illegible] obeying the nature instead of shifting human expediency in the Divine constitution of things instead of human and conventional arrangements, will be enough and permanent peace [illegible] a [illegible] throughout [illegible] the [illegible] Christian [illegible] and every [illegible] every man [illegible] for [illegible] and [illegible] nations [illegible] example [illegible] their [illegible] of [illegible] justice and [illegible] all.

With the highest respect for your virtues and the deepest gratitude for your services, I [illegible]

GERRIT SMITH

Impure Vaccine Virus

In view of the fact that the small pox has broken out in other parts of the coast, and the necessity of precautionary measures being urgent, the following extract from an editorial article in the [illegible] will be read with interest:

During the present variolous epidemic a number of persons have suffered severely from extensive inflammation of the arm with sloughing, in some instances consequent on vaccination. It is told on the street that one individual lost an arm from this cause, amputation having been deemed necessary. The popular inference is that the virus employed was contaminated with the poison of some other disease, and physicians are called on to avoid this risk by taking the matter directly from the cow. That vaccine matter may be impure and may generate disease is admitted, but we regard such results as rare. In all probability the cases reported are not of this kind, but owe their severity to the condition of the patient and not to the quality of the virus. The same epidemic influence which enables small pox to break through its ordinary limits and assume a severe and malignant type affects alike the character of the kine pock and renders it in many cases severe and even malignant. Within the range of our observation a large proportion of adults who have been revaccinated lately suffered more pain and inflammation of the arm than belong to genuine vaccine disease. For the first week the vaccination pursues the course of the genuine cow pock, but after that erysipelatous inflammation invades the arm, and fever often intervenes. Persons are often prevented from using the arm for several days. This occurs when the virus employed is known to be pure. So the scratch of a pin will produce serious results when the individual from some hidden cause is in a condition incapable of resisting injury.

After the experience of a lifetime we have more confidence in the lymph of the crust from the arm of a healthy child which has passed through the regular stages of perfect variola vaccina under our own observation than we have in the virus from any other source whatever. We have no belief in the deterioration of the cow pock by transmission. The description given by Jenner still applies perfectly. In fact the vaccine vesicle in its course from stage to stage is a striking and really a beautiful phenomenon, not to be mistaken for anything else. If care be taken to procure matter from a healthy child having the affection for the first time, and in whom it has passed through the several stages in a regular manner, our conviction is that nothing better can be done in the premises.

There is another mode of poisoning by vaccine virus which is worthy of mention. When the crust is mixed with water and kept on hand for use, as is sometimes done, it soon decomposes and develops an active poison. We have seen violent inflammation and sloughing produced in this way. The moral is—do not use vaccine virus after it has been mixed for an hour or two.

HOW GEORGIA WAS CARRIED FOR SEYMOUR.—We find the following explanation of how Georgia was carried for Seymour in the New Era published at Atlanta:

At the election for the Constitution and Governor in April last there were 200 918 registered voters on the registration list. Deduct 10 000 detained by providential causes and 190,000 should have voted. On the contrary only 159 863 votes were cast, showing that 30 000 were prevented from voting by causes with which we are all familiar.

At the late election there was no registration and no legal disfranchisement. Taking the Democratic estimate of the number disfranchised by the reconstruction acts the vote should have been increased at least 20 000, and as the total vote for Electors is 9[illegible] less than for Governor, it must be admitted by every one that not less than 60 000 votes have been kept out of the boxes by other than providential causes, and that nine tenths of those kept out were Republican votes is equally as well understood.

At a fair election without fraud or intimidation and with sufficient facilities for all to vote this State would have given Grant not less than 20 000 majority.

THE GREAT GRIP OF FATE.—Had the vote of the Empire State decided the Presidential contest the twenty five thousand fraudulent voters of New York city would have placed Horatio Seymour, the man who encouraged their Draft Riot, in the Executive chair. Here is something over which the candid men of both parties may well ponder. Had the contest been close these professional villains, the rabble and slum of the Five Points, would have cast the determining vote and closed up the mouth of the country for the next four years. That they did not succeed in so doing this time was because the popularity of the candidates and the righteousness of the principles of the Republican party enabled it to triumph so gloriously that the result depended not on the voice of any three States. But in the next trial the struggle may be as closely and stubbornly [illegible] that these political Hessians will [illegible] power and that they will [illegible] right of [illegible] State [illegible] to recognize this [illegible] remove from this [illegible].

Buckle in his History of Civilization says that marriage does not depend upon love but upon the price of corn. It is evident that children have long known this and have even measured love as men measure corn, as appears from their common expression: "I love you two bushels and a peck." The statistical lover does not now say as he used to: "Amanda, I love thee," but "Amanda, provisions are cheap."

A Poor Mechanic tells a New York editor that he was engaged to and accepted by a girl, and that there being no minister or magistrate in the vicinity they agreed to be married. He then asks if their marriage is legitimate. The editor replies that the public acknowledgment by a man of a woman as his wife makes her such in the Empire State.

"Why Walter," said his mother, "I am astonished. The idea of your wishing to go down to the resort on the Lord's holy Sabbath to go swimming with a lot of bad little boys." "But" [illegible] blubbers Walter, "I didn't want to go swimming with 'em, ma, I only wanted to go down and see the bad boys get drowned for going a swimming on Sunday."

A First Class Joke

ASTORIA Dec 10 1868

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

In the Daily of the 3d inst and in the weekly of the [illegible] under the heading of "Late Eastern News by Overland Mail," you publish "a laughable historical incident" as having occurred at the Treasury Department at Washington Nov [illegible] relative to "Jeff Davis's former costume." The account of the contents of the "tin box," or box as it is there called, is so different from the general public understanding of the matter, that one would readily inquire for a fuller account of the affair.

On looking over Eastern papers by the same mail I found in the semi weekly Tribune of New York Nov 13th a much fuller account of the tin box, the opening of it, and its contents, which is described as "an old calico dress, a woman's shawl and water proof cloak," properly labelled. This "historical incident," mentioned in the label of the calico dress, is of sufficient importance—to lovers of the sublime and "chivalric" at least—to be transmitted to future generations and the present readers of the OREGONIAN, truthfully. You will therefore oblige many readers by giving the following account of that affair as clipped from the Tribune:

Several months after the close of the war, a tin box was given to Gen Spinner, Treasurer of the United States, by Mr Stanton, then Secretary of War, for safe keeping. The box was said to contain about $30 000 in gold, and Mr Skinner carefully locked it away in the vaults of the Treasury. About a year ago a certain national bank suspended with a heavy indebtedness to the Government. A United States Quartermaster, who had got into trouble in his official capacity, was indebted to this bank in the sum of $30,000, and the box deposited with Spinner was said to contain that amount of money belonging to said Quartermaster. The bank engaged the services of an eminent lawyer of New York City as its attorney, and he immediately began proceedings to have the box opened and the money taken out and paid over to the Government to liquidate a part of the bank's indebtedness. The attorney has been striving for more than a year to accomplish his object, but it was not until to-day that success attended his efforts. He had been to Secretary McCulloch, who referred him to Gen. Grant. Gen Grant hadn't the authority, but thought Stanton was the person. Mr Stanton referred him back to Mr McCulloch, who asked time to consider. Several months thus passed, and Mr McCulloch laid the case before the President, and he thought it a fit subject for a Cabinet consultation. It was accordingly discussed in Cabinet meeting, but before a conclusion could be reached the impeachment complication occurred, and changes were made in the Cabinet. It was then found necessary to bring the subject before the Cabinet again with its new members. This was done and it was decided that the power to open the box lay with the Secretary of War. On Wednesday the War Secretary detailed Gen Hardee of his staff to accompany the bank attorney and have the contents of the box examined. They found that the rules of the Treasury Department required a law officer of the United States to be a witness, and Assistant District Attorney Wilson was sent for. Gen Spinner then summoned several of his confidential clerks as additional witnesses, and the whole party, headed by the triumphant and hopeful attorney, went to the vaults. The box was brought out from a dark corner for inspection. It was locked and sealed, but there was no key. After some delay a locksmith was secured and the box was opened, and found to contain an old calico dress, and a woman's shawl and water proof cloak, labelled as follows: "Taken from the person of Jeff Davis at the time of his capture by Col. Pritchard, of the U S A." Gen Hardee at once departed for the War Department. The attorney has gone to New York and Gen Spinner is still laughing at the best joke of the season.

GARNISHING ELECTION RETURNS.—It having been definitely settled that the State had gone for Grant, a large number of Democrats who have lost money on the result of the election are endeavoring to crawfish out of their bets. The plan most generally adopted is to have the bets garnished or attached by a creditor(?). Several large sums deposited in the Bank of California were attached or garnished yesterday, and we have heard of a great many similar cases where comparatively insignificant sums were involved. Matt Searing won two bets of $1 500 each, both of which were garnished by parties who claimed to be creditors of the man who bet with Searing. One of the cases was a claim of $1,375 made by J. T Sullivan against Charles McCaskie, who bet $1 500 with Searing that the State would go for Seymour, a bet won by Eugene L Sullivan, also deposited in the Bank of California. We have heard of numerous similar cases in regard to bets in sums of $40 to $100. Some of these garnishments may be legitimate, but the general belief is that they are gotten up by collusion for the purpose of escaping the payment of a debt of honor. In striking contrast to the above is the conduct of William Woodward, the well known sporting man, who yesterday surrendered without a murmur bets to the amount of $26 000.—San Francisco Chronicle Dec 4th.

The Lesson of a Lusty Kick

The Democratic organs of this State are shrieking and screeching terribly because of the treatment which the insulting messages of the Oregon Ku Klux Legislature received at the hands of Congress. That was a terrific kick which the Oregon [illegible] received, judging from the noise that is made about it and the vigor with which the rubbing of the injured parts goes on. The two organs of this city are vieing with each other in their piteous ululations. They appear to be contending with each other to see which can pitch its utterances of distress in the highest key. Both assume the ridiculous position that the action of Congress is a denial of the right of petition. So the insulting and outrageous language addressed to Congress, in which that body is charged with treason, perjury and usurpation, is simply a gentle petition which it is the duty of that body to receive! It bears about as much resemblance to a petition to Congress as the song of Moses at the Red Sea. We quote a part of the Commercial's article on the subject:

> Congress, following in the wake of tyrants generally, assumes to dictate (by refusing to receive the resolutions referred to above) to the Legislature of Oregon, what, and what it shall not do. It [illegible] its consent to a free expression of opinion with part of a sovereign State. The right of petition is sacred, and though a petition were [illegible] asking Congress to do a plainly unconstitutional act, no matter how absurd, it ought, in a republican legislative body, to be received. The [illegible], we say, when the presiding officers of each [illegible] become the unwilling recipients of the resolutions sent to Congress by authority of the Legislature, let them be instructed to return them on the ground that the action of Congress is "[illegible]" and impertinent.

This advice to the Legislature to send the resolutions back to Congress is a wonderful [illegible] for the injured dignity of the former! The [illegible] to be addressed to Congress is, "[illegible] another" and our neighbor seems to [illegible] that this will completely vindicate the dignity of the bruised and battered Rump of Oregon!

But the Commercial is tame and spiritless compared with the Herald. Just listen to the [illegible] of the last named paper:

> On the eighth day of December, Anno Domini 1868, an eventful scene was witnessed at the National Capital. The House of Representatives had [illegible] * * * And there they all sat, the Radicals of the Rump, apparently indifferent to the proceedings of the hour. The Clerk lays his hand upon another paper, and reads as follows: "Resolutions of the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, instructive of their [illegible] in Congress, having voted for measures [illegible]stitutional, which have overthrown [illegible] and free government and consigned the [illegible] of eleven States to odious and despotic [illegible]." Reader, did you ever observe the [illegible] a hawk's scream over a poultry yard? [illegible] to some extent imagine the effect of [illegible] scream of the unterrified freemen of Oregon [illegible] the brazen cowards of the Rump!" [illegible] thought it our duty to pause here [illegible] the reader time to recover his breath [illegible] from the fright produced by this [illegible] "scream" of the K K K. We now [illegible]
> [illegible] the dam— at is to return. Even now [illegible] little protest of freemen against [illegible] crossing the wide distance of the [illegible]. Never did the United States mail convey [illegible] precious burden. Let us receive it [illegible] it with honor. Let the Democracy [illegible] that it be carefully preserved in the ar[illegible] the State to show to our children that [illegible] this age of wide spread corruption there [illegible] of the spirit of '76 left in the breast [illegible]. Well done brave, plucky little [illegible]. You have spoken with the candor of free[illegible] have not spoken in vain. It is true [illegible] has been answered by insult by the [illegible] and traitors of the Rump; [illegible] spirit of this State, and this in[illegible] of the right of petition on the part [illegible] Rump, will serve to arouse the [illegible] of their heretofore sovereign States [illegible] in the majesty of their strength [illegible] from power these infamous [illegible], that have so contemptuously treated [illegible] wish of a free people.

[illegible] If a newspaper will print such [illegible] twaddle and stilted nonsense as [illegible] a liberty to do so. The idea [illegible] was conveyed by this piece of [illegible] impertinence perpetrated by a [illegible] Legislature of Oregon is a fiction [illegible] to be highly pleasing to our [illegible]. Truly your "Democratic freeman" [illegible] child of natur, and his boastful [illegible] the tyrant and the despot is that his [illegible] in the settin' sun!"

[illegible] OF DEMOCRACY.—Every now and [illegible] find some genuine Lost Cause doc[illegible] in the Herald, and by this token we [illegible] its party still has a sacred regard [illegible] Democratic principles of se[illegible] and rebellion. While that paper is [illegible] in its praises of Johnson's last message, [illegible] occasion to say, and it wants the [illegible] understood, that it is "no [illegible] for Andrew Johnson." "We cannot," [illegible] avers, "but heartily condemn his [illegible] to his State some seven years ago." Oh no! So Johnson's refusal to turn rebel still rankles in the Democratic mind, and the [illegible] will never forgive him because he did not secede with "his State" and take up [illegible] the Government! And because he did not do this he is no true Democrat, [illegible] the orthodox of that party "cannot but [illegible] his 'Andy.'" By adhering to his [illegible] at that time, Johnson forfeited forever the esteem of all good Democrats. Even [illegible] the lapse of so many years this unpar[illegible] sin is raked up against him. But had he acted differently, had he gone off into rebellion with Davis and Toombs and Breckinridge and Semmes and a host of others, he might have stood in Democratic estimation quite as high as any of those celebrities. Johnson is surely to be pitied. Because he would not become a rebel in 1861 all good Democrats are resolved never to give him their sympathy, confidence or support, and because he virtually espoused the rebel cause in 1866, all Republicans have rejected him. The Herald makes the position of the Democracy very clear. It says substantially that no Southern man who did not join the rebellion can be reckoned as a true Democrat.

"IRRESPONSIBLE."—The name of Mr Pennoyer, which has been standing for some weeks at the head of the Herald columns as editor of that paper, has been withdrawn and no person is now announced or known as editor. Thus the organ has become entirely "irresponsible." O, what a fall was there! It is enough to make [illegible] [illegible] uneasy in his grave. To think that [illegible] which he used to boast two or three times a week had a responsible editor [illegible] at the same time he sneered at those which did not follow his fashion as "irresponsible sheets,"—to think that it has come to this. Truly did the great philosophic orator of England remark on a certain mournful occasion—"What shadows we are and what shadows we pursue."

SOUTH CAROLINA.—The vote of this State was Grant, 62,300; Seymour, 45,137. Republican, 17,163. Total vote, 107,437,—about the same as that of California.

Flat Repudiation

The following from Johnson's late message is, without exception, the most [illegible] proposition ever submitted by a President of the United States:

> It may be assumed that the holders of our securities have already received upon their bonds a larger amount than their original investment, measured by a gold standard. Upon this statement of facts it would seem but just and equitable that the six per cent interest now paid by the Government should be applied to the reduction of the principal in semi-annual installments, which in sixteen years and eight months would liquidate the entire national debt. Six per cent in gold would at present rates equal nine per cent in currency, equivalent to the payment of the debt one and a half times in a fraction less than seventeen years. This, in addition to other advantages derived from their investment, would afford to the public creditors a fair and liberal compensation for the use of their capital, and with this they should be satisfied. The lessons of the past admonish the lender that it is not well to be over anxious in exacting from the borrower a rigid compliance. Provision must be made for the payment of the indebtedness of the Government in the manner suggested, or the nation will not rapidly recover its prosperity.

That is the Government, after having agreed to pay the public creditor interest at six per cent upon his money until the principal is paid, is now advised by its Chief Executive to stop paying the interest and apply the six per cent per annum to the reduction of the principal. The plea that is set up in justification of this proposed robbery is that the public creditor has already received as interest an amount equivalent to his original investment. Apply this principle to private transactions and see the result. Suppose a debtor should claim the right to stop paying interest on borrowed money on the ground that he had had the money a long time and had already paid the creditor the original amount borrowed, would any honest man or any court of law sustain the debtor in such a claim? What private individuals may do in a matter of this kind the Government may do, and no more. Think of the English people resorting to such a proposition as this to evade the obligations of their national debt. The disgrace which is cast upon the American name by such a recommendation is the result of having a low demagogue, a "scurvy politician," in the Presidential chair. There is no wonder that this message was denounced in Congress as "the most shameless proposition to repudiate the debt ever put forward from any quarter."

The Plea of Locality

We are glad to observe in many influential journals a protest against the notion that locality has anything to do with men's fitness or availability for high official positions. Conjectures and discussions relative to the formation of General Grant's Cabinet have frequently led to the declaration that New England, New York, or the Pacific States demand this or that, and these expressions have in many instances been followed by remonstrances from other sources against such a doctrine. It is time the Republican party had entirely repudiated this notion of locality. For our part we want a Cabinet officer from the Pacific coast if a man can be found here who will, on the whole, be satisfactory to the country and add strength to Gen Grant's Administration, and not otherwise. We want nothing of this sort for Oregon simply on the score of locality.

This notion that locality should be studied in a matter like this often leads to the most absurd extremes. It gets into State politics, excites local jealousies, often thrusts the best men into the background and brings persons of inferior merit and ability into the public service. A B, it is admitted on all hands, is just the man for Senator, or Congressman or Governor, but then he lives in this quarter of the State or that, and therefore he cannot have it. Ability and fidelity must give way to the demands of locality, and statesmanship becomes a geographical problem. As well make an enumeration of the whole people without reference to merit or ability, and apply among them the common principle of sortition in the selection of public servants. We hope to see this balancing of "claims" between this end and that end of our own State come to a termination. It is gratifying to observe that the increase of intelligence and the enlarged feeling of common interest are doing much to obliterate these narrow jealousies.

The nomination of Grant and Colfax by the Republican party, both of them "Western men and belonging to adjoining States, was an act which totally ignored in a national point of view, the narrow distinction of locality. Republicans ought always to act on the same enlarged principles. The truth is as an Eastern cotemporary has well observed the notion of locality is really an offshoot of the old heresy of State rights. It comes from the effort to make people care more for their State, or their section, than for the common welfare of the country. It grows out of the pernicious influence of Democratic heresies, in setting one section against another and leading men to believe that each must fight for his own locality to the exclusion of every other—instead of working all together for the common well being. But with the rule of the Republican party, this narrow view of public affairs is gradually passing away, and, as we are learning to feel that we are one nation, linked together indissolubly in interest, men are beginning to feel that the welfare of the whole involves the interests of each and every part. Let this feeling prevail and a better day will come.

REMARKABLE FIDELITY.—Some of the Democratic leaders, with an absorbing devotion something like that which characterized the good woman who "never would desert Mr Micawber," declare that they will "never abandon the Democratic organization." The determination is perfectly harmless. The people having abandoned them they will present a pretty spectacle standing alone in their firm resolve.

WISCONSIN.—Some corrections in the vote of this State were made by the State canvassers on the final count. The average vote for the Grant Electors is 108,923 and for the Seymour Electors, 84,708. Republican majority, 24,215. Total 193,631. In 1864 Lincoln had 83,458, and McClellan 65,884. Lincoln's majority 17,574. Total vote, 149,342. Increase in two years, 44,281.

POWERFUL ARGUMENT.—About half of Johnson's message is devoted to whining, and censure of Congress, because it cost a great deal of money to put down the rebellion. This is the same line of argument which has been pursued for several years by fourth rate Democratic editors and politicians.

THE DISFRANCHISED.—Some of the Democratic journals are piping against the proposed suffrage amendment. Ex-rebel Democrats vote all over the country and surely a dark complexion is a smaller offence against the Constitution and the laws and the peace of society than treason and rebellion.

This year's Egyptian cotton crop amounts to 197,000,000 pounds.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO DECEMBER 15.

The Legal Tender Act

NEW YORK, Dec 14.—The Tribune editorially says it is confidentially advised from Washington that the Supreme Court is pretty certain to decide the Legal Tender Act unconstitutional. There will probably be but one dissenting opinion.

Nominations for Office

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—The President sent to the Senate the nominations of Alexander Cummings as Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Henry Smythe as Minister to Russia, Wm. Callom as Superintendent of Indian Affairs in Idaho and Montana.

In Relation to Cuba

NEW YORK, Dec 14.—Important news dispatches prepared at Havana for the New York Associated Press were suppressed by the Cuban authorities. It is inferred from this that insurgents have won a more important success.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—In the Senate, Sherman presented a memorial of the members elected to the Mississippi Legislature, alleging that the constitution of that State was adopted by a majority of the legal voters, and praying Congress to recognize it as the constitution of Mississippi and put the government in operation. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Morgan presented a memorial from Wm. E. Dodge, Horace Greeley and others, praying Congress to appoint a special committee to investigate naturalization and election frauds. Same reference.

Morton introduced a bill to provide for the redemption of greenbacks and currency in coin.

SECTION 1. Prohibits the sales of gold by the Treasury Department, and directs all gold not necessary for the payment of interest on the public debt to be reserved and set apart for the redemption of U. S. notes.

SEC. 2. Directs the Secretary of the Treasury after July 1st, 1871, to pay all notes presented for redemption.

SEC. 3. Provides that after January 1st, 1872, national banks must redeem their notes in coin and shall retain in their vaults all coin received by them as interest on stock after January 1st, 1870.

SEC. 4. Directs banks to replace reserve legal tender notes with coin and equaling them, hold reserve coin as they are now required by law to hold their reserve legal tender notes.

SEC. 5. Authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to cancel all notes redeemed under the provisions of this act to the extent his judgment may deem necessary for proper limitation of currency.

SEC. 6. Provides that after January 1st, 1872, greenbacks shall cease to be legal tenders, but be receivable for government dues as now provided.

SEC. 7. Authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to sell bonds of the United States due in 30 years and redeemable after ten years, bearing [illegible] per cent interest, principal and interest payable in gold, to an amount necessary to carry into operation the provisions of the second section.

A number of other bills were introduced. Among them was one by Williams to establish a uniform rule of naturalization; by Wilson, to fix the number of Judges of the Supreme Court and change Judicial circuits; by Pomeroy, to create a Department of Indian Affairs; by Cole, to legalize contracts; by Conklin, to repeal the act fixing the time for regular meetings of Congress.

Cottell introduced a resolution censuring the President for views in his Message in relation to the national debt. After a brief debate this was referred to the Committee on Finance.

The Senate agreed to the House resolution to adjourn from the 21st inst., to January 5th.

In the House a number of bills and resolutions were introduced, including one by Garfield to legalize gold contracts.

Broomall moved a suspension of the rules to enable him to introduce a preamble and resolutions protesting against sentiments in the President's Message, in reference to the payment of the public debt, declaring that all forms and degrees of repudiation of the national debt are odious to the American people, and under no circumstances will their representatives consent to offer public creditors less than the amount of money the government contracted to pay. The rules were suspended and the resolution was adopted, 154 to 6.

A resolution was adopted appointing a special Committee of seven to investigate the election frauds in New York.

Butler introduced a bill to enforce the laws of the United States in Louisiana.

The bill to provide for the construction of a ship canal around Niagara falls was made the special order for the second Wednesday in January.

Hunt offered a resolution directing the Secretary of State to inform the House whether any Commissioner has been sent as a representative from this country to Spain recently and for what purpose. Adopted. House adjourned.

Mail Matters.

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—Postmaster Randall has sent to the House an estimate of the amount required for the service of the department for the year ending June 1870. The sum total is twenty four and a half millions of which the inland mail transportation, including the overland and sea mail to California, receives thirteen and one third millions.

Boston Municipal Election.

BOSTON, Dec 14.—The returns from the mayoralty election show that Shurtleff, Democrat, the present incumbent, has been re-elected by about 1,500 majority.

Speculations about Cushing's Mission.

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—A special says Caleb Cushing has probably gone to Boyata, to negotiate with the Government of Columbia for a joint protection of the ship canal across the Isthmus of Darien.

The Military Reunion at Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec 15.—Preparations for the great military reunion, which begins to-day, are complete. The reunion embraces the four armies of the Ohio, the Cumberland, the Tennessee and of Georgia, each of which will be fully represented. Probably fifteen hundred officers have already arrived, including all of the most prominent Generals who served in those armies, except Sheridan, Rosecrans and Rosseau. Among the Generals present are Grant, Sherman, Pope, Hardie, Schofield, McCook, Wright, McClernard, Vandevert, Stoneman, Hartsuff, Corse and Milliob. During the day each army corps will have a separate reunion. At night the grand opening ceremonies take place. The Opera House is lavishly decorated for the occasion. All the principal hotels are splendidly ornamented. The city presents a gala appearance. Wednesday night will be the grand banquet at the Chamber of Commerce, which will present a magnificent appearance within and without. No pains or expense will be spared on the part of Chicago to show herself worthy of being selected as the place for such an assemblage.

The Cuban Insurrection

NEW YORK, Dec 14.—The Herald's Havana special of the 12th, received via Kingston on the 14th, says the Government troops have suffered fearfully in the recent encounter. Insurrectionary risings have taken place in several large towns. The insurgents are within fifteen miles of Havana. The British Consul has notified English subjects to immediately register. The authorities require two millions for immediate use and have authorized the Spanish bank to make an issue of paper to that amount.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

MARSEILLES, Dec 14.—Advices from San Kow, China, report the safe returns of two Ministers of the London Wesleyan Mission from their travels through China. They were well treated, saw abundance of coal and evidences of gold, silver and iron mines. Catholic missions are very numerous and Catholic converts are numbered by hundreds of thousands.

LONDON, Dec 15.—Mr. Gladstone has issued an address to the electors of Greenwich in which he explains the part he took in the movement for the disestablishment of the Irish Church. It was impossible for him to decline the task of forming a ministry. He trusts that the new administration will deserve the countenance of the country, and promises to use every endeavor to carry the measures which he urged while out of office.

In the House of Commons petitions have been presented contesting the election of 34 Liberal and 36 Conservative members for boroughs.

Lord Clarendon, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, held a levee which was attended by Hons. Reverdy Johnson and Anson Burlingame.

MADRID, Dec 14.—The insurrection in Cadiz is terminated. Many of the insurgents wanted to deposit their arms at the American Consulate instead of with the government authorities, but Gen. Davoda refused to allow them to deposit their weapons. He held them to a strict compliance with the terms of his proclamation.

CADIZ, Dec 14.—The insurrection here has ended. The insurgents have given up their arms to the military authorities. The people generally are returning the arms which they secreted in their houses. Perfect quiet now prevails. There are no indications of the recent disturbance except the guards in the streets.

MADRID, Dec 14.—About 150 persons have been arrested for attempting to incite the working men of this city to rebel against the government.

PARIS, Dec 14.—The Estandard says the Great Powers will continue their efforts to settle the dispute between Turkey and Greece, and do not despair of success.

A Madrid special states that notwithstanding the surrender of the Cadiz insurgents the insurrectionary movement is spreading throughout Spain. Disturbances are prevalent in many places. The National Guard was again called out yesterday to prevent the workmen from rising. Families are leaving Madrid in fear of the coming trouble. The poor are in an awful condition. Business is paralyzed. The poor of Tarragona telegraph that Carlists are fomenting an agitation. Associations are being formed which have branches that will extend all over the city. The Marquis of Villune is President. That organization is ostensibly formed for the protection of unity of Catholics, but in reality to establish and propagate absolute principles preparatory to a rising in favor of a Carlist.

NEW YORK, Dec 15.—The Herald's Cadiz special says that on Sunday night there was great distress in the city. Thirty thousand persons left Cadiz. All the foreign consuls with their families, except the Swedish and American, left the city. The American consul's house was filled with refugees. The insurgents seem satisfied with the result of their efforts in favor of a republic. Five hundred persons were killed and wounded on both sides during the fighting last week. No arrests have been made and none is contemplated. The government promises to act magnanimously.

The Herald's special from Viarga, to the 14th, says that in compliance with the demands of the Turkish ultimatum the Greek Government has been requested to disband the volunteer corps, to forbid Grecian officers to participate in the Cretan insurrection, and also to permit the families to return to Crete. Greece refuses these demands and looks upon them as offensive. The Turkish Minister is preparing to depart from Athens.

WASHINGTON, Dec 15.—Letters from London report that the troubles between Turkey and Greece are of no moment in the preservation of the peace of Europe. The present Minister of Greece boasts openly about the support they have given the Crete insurgents. This open violation of international obligations is the cause of the present crisis. It is however evidently well known that as soon as Greece returns Crete will be powerless to maintain her present policy towards Turkey and will have to yield. It is the belief among English politicians that the Cretan insurrection cannot outlive the withdrawal of Greece.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec 15.—The Board of Supervisors, last evening, decided to enlarge the small pox hospital at once, and authorized the Building Committee to prepare additional sheds for the accommodation of patients. Ninety four new cases were reported last week and thirty more reported yesterday.

Thomas Gorman, ex policeman, was arrested last night upon a charge of bigamy.

A fight occurred among the Chinese at their theater on Jackson street last evening, in the course of which several men were badly wounded with knives and hatchets.

The trial of the case of H. R. Sullivan, administrator, vs the Central Pacific Railroad company was commenced to day. It was brought to recover $50,000 damages by the plaintiff, and administrator of the estate of H. R. Sullivan, deceased, who was killed by defendant's locomotive in Sacramento in January, 1867.

Best and Murphy's saloon, on Merchant street, was burned this morning; damages two thousand dollars.

Flour—Sales of 1,000 bbls extra and superfine for local trade, at current rates.

Wheat—400 sks good coast $1 60@1 62½; 325 sks good, to a miller $1 80; 600 sks fair Santa Clara $1 60; 2,000 sks fair shipping, $1 72½; 1,450 sks Oregon per Jane A. Falkenburg, full figures. The market continues quiet and prices firm with but few lots offering. We continue to quote $1 70@1 75 for fair to choice, at the close, 40,000 sks choice shipping in one lot, private.

Barley—Sales of 1,700 sks coast brewing in two lots, $2 25; feed is quotable at $2 10@2 20.

Oats—640 sks choice California $2 25, quotable at $2@2 25; 500 sks Oregon white per Continental $2 15; 1,500 sks Oregon black per Jane A. Falkenburg, $2 05. Oregon descriptions range from $2 05 to $2 20.

CHARITY.—A large class of people professing to be virtuous, on many occasions forget that to be charitable to a fellow being is the least virtue a person can possess. It is not always by giving money to the poor or assisting the afflicted that a person can only show their charity. A good advice is often better than money; for instance: Meeting a person who wishes to purchase a common or fine suit of clothes or any other article in the Clothing or Dry Goods line, is it not a charitable act toward that person to recommend them to go to Kohn & Fishel, and being certain that at that House they can purchase to the lowest rates and receive good goods, and where the most particular can be satisfied?

WHERE MY

HEAD-QUARTERS!

HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED

For the past Seven Years,

AND WHERE

I WILL HOLD MY ANNUAL CARNIVAL

DURING THE COMING FESTIVAL!

THAT ALL MAY OBSERVE

The Christmas and New Year's HOLIDAYS!

I herewith issue my Annual PROCLAMATION!!!

Dear Parents and Children! once more I appear,
And wish you good Christmas and Happy New Year!
I've brought you glad tidings—I've opened once more
My Budget of Wonders at McCormick's Book Store!
I've spread out my treasures, so give me a call
And view the nice GIFTS I've procured for you all
My Presents this year were conveyed to the town,
By Mercer's new clipper, the swift Sallie Brown.
The stock's most complete. The assortment comprises
Curiosities rare, of all shapes and all sizes!
I've Dollies that talk—I've babies that dance
(Some, very handsome, I purchased in France)
I've Fish that can swim—I've Roosters who strive
To crow so like nature you'd think they're alive!
I've Guns and I've Cannon—I've neat Savings [illegible],
And Soldiers that look very neat when in ranks
I've Puzzles and Pistols. Then Christmas to keep,
I've Candles, Reflectors, and Brackets—a heap!
I've beautiful Baskets, (a nice gift for Ma,)
And handsome Cigar Stands—just suited for Pa!
While there's nothing so welcome to uncle or aunt,
As a beautiful portrait of President Grant!
I've Work Boxes—handsome as ever were made—
With ladies' utensils all nicely arrayed
I've nice setts of China—I've Vases of Flowers,
And Musical Boxes that play at all hours
I've Furniture, Villages, Steamboats, and Blocks,
That gay little joker, called Jack-in-the-Box!
I've Tables, and Dressers, for China or delf
I've nice Solitaire, that you play by yourself!
I've new Magic Lanterns—a beautiful sight
To make all good children merry at night.
For girls at school I've a nice Skipping Rope,
And for family fun I've the new Zoetrope!
I've Games that instruct, and Books that amuse,
For Gifts to good people I never refuse.
In fine, I've got all that each heart could desire,
To name them all over your patience I'd tire,
But call on me early, or call on me late,
I'll visit your house all over this State—
In Washington's clime—up in young Idaho
I'm sure to find children wherever I go,
I've travelled for years—you all must remember
I'll be Sixty-nine at the end of December.
My hair is all white, and my body doth tend
To the latest fashion—the new Grecian bend!
On Christmas Eve night, as in bed you all sleep,
With pack on my back down each chimney I'll creep,
I'll lay out my Presents, but oh! 'twill be shocking,
Should I find a hole in any one's stocking!
So, for HOLIDAY GOODS—for Dolls sweet as honey,
Go to McCORMICK'S—you'll save half your money!
Nice Presents or Gifts—any kind you require,
You'll find at the "FRANKLIN"—(the number enquire)
On FRONT STREET, Near Alder—105,
In fact you can't miss it—and when you arrive,
Don't ask goods at cost, for you'll find, if you try,
That goods sold "at cost" always cost very high!
But to purchasers all, this maxim I'd give
Live well yourself, and thus let others live!

(L. S.) Given at my Palace, in Wonderland, this 7th day of the Twelfth month, being the second year of the reign of the third George, in the land of Webfoot.

[illegible] HAVE GOOD ROADS —We have had on hand [illegible] days a communication concerning road [illegible] Oregon—too long for publication entire But [illegible] to give some portions of it condensed [illegible] ations of a practical character The writer [illegible] State of Oregon will never have good roads as [illegible] the present system of road-making is carried [illegible] ever see roads otherwise than muddy axle [illegible] where the plow has been at work tearing up [illegible], in the midst of the rainy season and where [illegible] gravel has been dumped in promiscuous [illegible] and there stopping one bad place and [illegible] year by? Gravel is an excellent material [illegible] to make roadways when properly used [illegible] adding to us gravel why it [illegible] Why not prepare it by running it through a [illegible] as builders use? The trouble and cost of such [illegible] would, in the end be more than repaid [illegible] would be saved in the first instance in the item of [illegible] employed would load only with gravel [illegible] of laiding with half gravel and half [illegible] a firm and lasting bottom is desired [illegible] be used It will not do in winter The [illegible] of road making is to notify the people to [illegible] work some with teams hauling dirt others [illegible] ripping up and loosening the earth; others [illegible] shovels ditching and piling up dirt and all [illegible] or another preparing the roadway to be mud [illegible] worse than ever The tax payers who do this [illegible] ever seem to come for anything except to [illegible] time, though when they come to drive teams [illegible] own work they are about as apt as anybody [illegible] the bad roads All this needs reconstruc [illegible] go back to the old world for lessons in road [illegible] look at the roads of England for instance [illegible] wised roads with toll gates in each [illegible] so that those who use the roads with teams [illegible] pay the tax of building and repair [illegible] the vast amount of travel upon [illegible] are kept so clean that the pedestrian will [illegible] in mud deeper than the soles of [illegible] reason of this is that an [illegible] of road making is pursued [illegible] might be adopted here without entail [illegible] outlay than is now required And when [illegible] well made, of proper material it will cost [illegible] little to keep them in perfect repair Re [illegible] half the present rates, require it to [illegible] expend it under the administration of [illegible] in building permanent solid roads, keep [illegible] employed at fair wages during the road [illegible] making needed repairs, and then we [illegible] have good roads This system is worth [illegible] it be expensive at first. Whatever [illegible] at all, is worth doing well. But it would [illegible] than the old way, for whatever tax should [illegible] would be applied effectively Under the pres [illegible] proportion of the tax is worked (?) out [illegible] The tax-payers put in their time without [illegible] It would be better in the end to pay a [illegible] and then hire men who understand their busi [illegible] mend the roads Had the tax expended [illegible] the roads, been paid in money and ex [illegible] the English system, the State would now [illegible] roads everywhere Those who are dis [illegible] the systems of the old world and to insist [illegible] should be purely American should re [illegible] has required ages to find out what is best [illegible] American though it be—is a bad one [illegible] fices should not stand in the way of [illegible] fits of long experience, whether the les [illegible] from the old world or the new

[illegible] —The County and Commissioner's Court [illegible] day evening after having transacted [illegible] of law, probate and county business [illegible] the principal items of public importance [illegible] B. [illegible] that appropriations be made of $33 33, [illegible] of the Washington Guard and Emmet [illegible] County Treasurer for $806, State poll tax, [illegible] poll tax, for the year 1868, were filed [illegible] County [illegible] [illegible] of claims for fees as witnesses, jurors, [illegible] etc., were audited or [illegible] till [illegible] consideration The aggregate of [illegible] could not be ascertained yesterday

[illegible] INJUNCTION CASE —The Commercial [illegible] that "the parties interested will not [illegible] of Judge Deady as a final determina [illegible] of Coulson vs the City of Portland, in [illegible] of the ordinance guaranteeing the [illegible] hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the [illegible] railroad company The case is in [illegible] of the United States, and Judge Field [illegible] States Supreme Court, is the proper Judge [illegible] Court, and also the Judge who tried [illegible] in a similar case in California, upon which [illegible] decisions by the Supreme Court of [illegible] of the Portland ordinance is based It [illegible] Judge Deady, being a tax payer in Port [illegible] interested had no right to decide this [illegible] to take the case before Judge [illegible] to the Supreme Court of the United [illegible] or two errors in the above In the first [illegible] is no more the "proper Judge of the [illegible] than is Judge Deady, and in the next [illegible] taken before Judge Field as Cir [illegible] he should happen to be present when [illegible] finally determined The Circuit Court [illegible] Judge." It is a middle court over which [illegible] of the Supreme Court or a Judge of the [illegible] may preside, or both may sit together [illegible] such things as [illegible] a case determined [illegible] to another, nor can a case determined by a [illegible] be [illegible] to a Supreme Judge sitting as [illegible] The one is in every respect the equal of [illegible] case may be removed by proper pro [illegible] court, but not to another circuit [illegible] there before determination

[illegible] TOBACCO —Under the Internal Revenue [illegible] 20, 1868 it is provided that all taxes on [illegible] shall be paid by stamps attached to [illegible] containing the same The following is an [illegible] Sec 78 After the first day of January [illegible] hundred and sixty nine, all smoking fine cut [illegible] tobacco or snuff shall be taken and deemed as [illegible] after the passage of this act and shall not [illegible] for sale unless put up in packages and [illegible] by this act * * * and any per [illegible] sell or offer for sale, after the first day of [illegible], any smoking fine cut chewing tobacco or [illegible] so put up in packages and stamped, shall on [illegible] be fined not less than five hundred dollars [illegible] imprisonment not less than six months. [illegible] "The absence of the proper stamp on any [illegible] manufactured tobacco or snuff shall be notice [illegible] that the tax has not been paid thereon and [illegible] prima facie evidence of the non payment thereof [illegible] or snuff shall be forfeited to the United

[illegible] GANG PLOW —It will be remembered [illegible] the late State Fair great interest was mani [illegible] the several gang plows on exhibition and that [illegible] trial the OREGONIAN published a somewhat [illegible] account of the proceedings and the opinions and [illegible] of the Judges In that correspondence the [illegible] plow invented and patented by Mr Wm [illegible] of Polk county, was given the decided preference [illegible] others in some essential respects—such as strength [illegible] of construction and ease with which it can be [illegible] The judgment of the practical farmers present [illegible] was, that it was the best plow for Oregon [illegible] pleased to learn, not only that it is rapidly grow [illegible], but that it is to be manufactured on a large [illegible] Portland firm Messrs Hay & Co, of this [illegible] purchased the right for Oregon Washington [illegible] Montana, and they propose to make enough of [illegible] to supply every demand. By reference to [illegible] advertisement, it will be seen that they also pro [illegible] sell county rights to manufacture and sell We [illegible] nothing in the plow line that would more certainly [illegible] good investment than to purchase county rights [illegible] is one that the farmers will buy and use

[illegible]'s COURT —For the last day or two, the City [illegible] has been receiving calls rather much [illegible] On [illegible] there were just a Baker's dozen of cases and yes [illegible] half as many more James Lamb was held [illegible] for larceny Samuel Bowles was fined $50 for [illegible] battery Fred Dolschneider charged with [illegible] acquitted Mary De Forest, fined $10 for as [illegible] Raymond $10 for assault and battery Mag [illegible], fined $25 for larceny and Louis Kiss fined [illegible] The balance of the cases were disorder [illegible] drunks, for which the parties were fined or sent

[illegible] OF GRACE —We learn that the applications [illegible] from indebtedness under the Bankrupt [illegible] becoming unusually numerous of late—attribu [illegible] to the near approach of the time when a [illegible] cannot be obtained After the first of [illegible] the relief afforded by the law will not be so [illegible] In all cases where proper proceedings [illegible] prior to January 1st the applicant must [illegible] per cent of all indebtedness before he can be [illegible], it will be seen that the days of abundant

[illegible] —DEADY J —The following proceedings [illegible] day in the U S Circuit Court [illegible] et al vs City of Portland et al; in [illegible] granted restraining the city from is [illegible] railroad bonds [illegible] et al vs L M Starr et al in equity [illegible] the report of the Commissioners as to [illegible] of the property [illegible] Ander on et al hearing upon motion to [illegible] staying execution had Argued and sub [illegible] until Monday the 21st inst

[illegible] SOIREE —Prof Cardinell will have his [illegible] night soiree at the Washington Guard's [illegible] guests at Cardinell's always have a pleas [illegible] It is expected that next Saturday evening, [illegible] particularly first-rate Great prepara [illegible] making for his New Year's Eve ball,

NO CONFLICT INTENDED —Mr Quimby wishes it under stood that the social party at the Exchange announced for New Year's Eve is not intended to be at all in con flict with Prof Cardinell's ball the same evening When he announced the party, he was not aware of Mr C's intention of giving a ball

SPALDING'S GLUE [illegible]

A NOTICEABLE FACT —That one way of appealing to a man's reason is through his eye In these busy times men are so deeply immersed in the conduct of magnificent projects that they forget all about the condition of their systems and hence it is that the Proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS which cure Dyspepsia regulates the Blood, improves the tone of the Stomach regulates the Bowels and indeed invigorates the whole inner man, are so active in advertising In fact, advertisements are only sky rockets sent up to attract attention to a really good article

HELP OR WE PERISH —This is what neglected teeth would say if they could remonstrate with their owners; and mark this, the teeth cannot perish or become black or yellow if the Sozodont is used daily

AROMATIC
SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS.

TO THE CITIZENS OF OREGON:

I BEG LEAVE TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE citizens of Oregon to my celebrated AROMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS a medicinal Diet Drink of eminently salutary qualities manufactured by me exclusively at my factory at Schiedam, in Holland
In Gravel Gout and Rheumatism, in Obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys its efforts are [illegible] and invariably reliable
It is now some twenty years since the Proprietor first introduced it to the American public and during that time he has received over 3 000 letters from physicians endorsing it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice
It is made from barley of the finest quality, [illegible] with great care from the products of the most [illegible] grain growing districts, is flavored with the [illegible] aromatic juniper berry of Italy and is [illegible] by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every [illegible] article
As a means of preventing and correcting [illegible] ble and often dangerous effects produced on [illegible] and bowels by a change of water—a [illegible] travelers new settlers and all [illegible] peculiarly liable—the
SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS
Will be found absolutely infallible; while, in [illegible] dropsy gravel obstructions of the ki[illegible] the bladder stricture dropsy [illegible] is recommended most emphatically by the most [illegible] guished members of the medical pr[illegible]
It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac simile of his signature on the [illegible] For sale by all respectable druggists and country m[illegible]

The Double-Headed Colored Girls at New Orleans

We paid a visit on Friday to that most wonderful of Nature's freaks the double headed colored girl or perhaps it would be more correct to say the two girls in one. For convenience we shall speak of them in the plural. They are entirely distinct, so far as mind is concerned, laughing and chatting with each other, and being apparently on the most intimate terms, and one can [illegible] a cold without the other being [illegible]ed, but any fever or other serious disease affects both equally.

Their bodies are separate from the small of the back up, each having a perfectly formed bust and head, two arms, &c., and each has two legs, but there is only one trunk. Both are remarkably intelligent, reading and writing with ease, while their manners are really refined. In quite a lengthy conversation they did not make a single grammatical error, and their language was unusually select. Upon questioning them as to their education, they replied that they had been carefully taught by their former mistress, Mrs. Smith, in Columbus, North Carolina, in which village they were born.

They are now fifteen years old, and more than ordinarily bright for girls of their age, having had the advantage of foreign travel. They both sing very sweetly, one having a soprano and the other a contralto voice, and we have rarely heard two voices that blended so perfectly in a duet. Among their other accomplishments is that of dancing, and the manner in which they manage to execute a waltz is truly wonderful. When standing at ease the left foot of one and the right foot of the other do not lie flat upon the floor, but rest [illegible] the toes. In walking, however, they step [illegible] their feet alike, though they can hold [illegible] and walk with perfect ease with the other two.

In [illegible] of them as one they are called Millie-Christie, but in addressing them separately one applies the distinctive appellation, she on the left being called Millie and she on the right Christie, though Christie, in addressing her other half, calls her "Sister." There is a striking resemblance between their faces, and the [illegible] of their heads is much the same—Christie being perhaps a shade brighter than her [illegible], and rather more talkative.

[illegible] seeing these strange girls we had fancied that we would experience a feeling of repulsion, but the first glance at their bright, cheerful faces [illegible] the idea effectually.—N. O. Times.

A Fatal Facility for Falling in Love.—The Newark (N. J.) Advertiser thus relates the singular [illegible] of a young woman on just becoming [illegible] of the tender passion:

[illegible] time ago a young gentleman whose parents [illegible] in respectable quarters in New York city, and are said to be wealthy, won the affection of a daughter of Mr. John Englehorn, of [illegible], and eloped with her before yet her [illegible] thought her old enough to be influenced by [illegible] passion. She was taken to the residence of a friend on Long Island, from whence she was [illegible] reclaimed by detectives from [illegible], on complaint of Mr. Englehorn, who also [illegible] a suit against the man for abducting the girl. Pending the suit, the youthful adorer, who [illegible] to have the most innocent intentions [illegible] Miss Englehorn, carried her off for the [illegible] time and placed her again on Long Island. [illegible] While here and during his absence [illegible] to the entreaties of a gentleman [illegible] hotel and married him. The [illegible] lover No. 1, when this phase of [illegible] presented on his return, was almost [illegible]. He states that he was only [illegible] from turning the comedy into a tragedy [illegible] of his pocket pistol. He returned [illegible], and so did the newly married couple [illegible] expecting to find only a warm re[illegible] his father in law. His turn for sur[illegible], had come. He was summarily [illegible] from the house and his bride locked up. [illegible] It was too late to quench the flame [illegible] to her last love, was allowed [illegible] to her husband, leaving a disconsolate [illegible] extra lover.

[illegible] Incident.—Last evening a [illegible] during the delivery [illegible] lying borough located off the line [illegible] railroad. The lecture was de[illegible], under the auspices of a tem[illegible]tion, and, as the lecturer has a [illegible] for ability and eloquence in treat[illegible] a large audience was present to [illegible] the course of the lecture the [illegible] that he frequently made use of [illegible] on white muslin, so as not to [illegible] in traveling, to present points [illegible] more clear and forcible. [illegible], at length, reached that portion of [illegible] he desired to use the diagrams, [illegible] in one hand proceeded [illegible] to unfold a roll of white muslin [illegible] lying on the table in front of him [illegible]. While doing this he continued [illegible] and having unfolded his package [illegible] what he supposed to be the [illegible] to refer to the "points [illegible] on the speaker and the audience [illegible] the former, on glancing [illegible] that instead of displaying the [illegible] diagram he was holding out to the [illegible] which bore unmistakable evidence [illegible] was, of course, convulsed with [illegible] speaker, with a slight show [illegible] refolded the garment, and re[illegible] with whom he had taken tea [illegible] diagrams, which had evidently been [illegible]. During the absence of the gen[illegible] was restored, but when he returned [illegible], and they were exhibited, the [illegible] positive evidence that the ludicrous [illegible] had not been forgotten.—Pittsburg Chron.

[illegible] who used to be a school teacher [illegible], is now worth his millions, and [illegible] princely residence on Fifth avenue [illegible]. Mr. Bissel was principal of the High [illegible] the Second district of New Orleans [illegible] age. He was the first to con[illegible] that if oil was to be found and [illegible] on the surface of lakes and creeks in [illegible], there must be some source or spring [illegible] amid the rocks. He bored and [illegible], and, although fortune has showered [illegible] upon him, he has not forgotten his [illegible] pupils and friends, to whom, now and [illegible], he sends his kind remembrances.

[illegible] Maelstrom of our childhood's geographies [illegible]. A late report of the Norwegian fish[illegible] says that it is so little thought of by the [illegible] that they pass and repass it in their [illegible] at all stages of the tide except at cer[illegible] in the winter season, and far from [illegible] in whales and other things that come [illegible], it appears to be a favorite resort [illegible] of the country, and the fishermen reap [illegible] from its bosom. The [illegible] of the tide in winter does not exceed [illegible] an hour."

[illegible] writer to the New York World with regard to the disputed orthography of the [illegible] of Orleans, that the true spell[illegible] Dare, without any aristocratic [illegible]. Henri Martin in his history of [illegible] always spelled the name Dare. She was born [illegible], and could not have been named "D'Arc." The name is still common in her [illegible] and descendants of the family live there—all [illegible] Dare.

A story is told of a Western lawyer who lately [illegible] a religious meeting where he was called upon to offer a prayer. Not being experienced in such duty, he rose and attempted the Lord's prayer, and succeeded very well until he came to the [illegible]. Give us this day [illegible], when, from the force of habit, he immediately added, "with costs."

Not long ago a woman was accidentally locked up in the vault of a village church in Sweden and remained there for eleven days. Great care was afterwards taken of her and she has recovered.

Mr. Zachariah Wilson, Portland, Oregon, writes:

[illegible] requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself during the stormy ordeal of public experience. Murray's Improved Magic Oil has stood the test of time and has not been found wanting. The astonishing efficacy that I experienced—its curing me of Chronic Rheumatism and Lumbago of long standing, entitles Dr. Murray's Premium Lung and Liver Balsam and Improved Magic Oil to a high rank in the list of remedies for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Ear-ache, Distressing Pains, etc.

John English, of Howell Prairie, Marion county, Oregon, writes:

I was taken with a severe attack of Rheumatism in my knee joints and extremities, accompanied with a severe cough for two months, so that I had to use crutches, meanwhile trying all remedies in common use. Your Magic Oil and Balsam gave me instant relief, and I was able to walk in four days without crutches. I have not felt any rheumatism since. I have seen your family medicines used with excellent success. I have no hesitancy saying it is the best preparation for family use ever [illegible] for those complaints. I am now on my way to [illegible] America after residing in Oregon twenty years. I must now have two dozens Balsam and two dozens of your Magic Oil dollar bottles, as I am sure they are the best remedies in Oregon, and I would not be without them in my house, and when this package of medicines is exhausted I will send to your office in Portland for a fresh supply.

CHANGE OF NAME!

MERCADO & CO., SUCCESSORS TO Mercado & Seully, have been obliged for their own protection and the safety of the public to change the name of their celebrated Bitters to MERCADO'S Native California Wine BITTERS.

We annex the following affidavit in the injunction suit [illegible] between Mercado & Seully, plaintiffs, and [illegible] defendant.

[illegible], being duly sworn, says: That the article known as [illegible] California Wine Bitters was manufactured by Mercado & Seully about the [illegible] of May, 1861, with [illegible] the said [illegible] others having any connection in the manufacture thereof. The deponent has always [illegible] Mercado & Seully as the Sole proprietors of the Sainsevain California Wine Bitters.

Notwithstanding the above affidavit the said P. Sainsevain is putting up a [illegible] under the name "Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters," representing it to be the same as our celebrated Bitters, which we have been manufacturing and selling [illegible] in one quantity [illegible] a [illegible] label to that used on our genuine Wine Bitters. BE NOT DECEIVED. Send for [illegible]

MERCADO'S

NATIVE CALIFORNIA WINE BITTERS.

An [illegible] will obtain the most popular beverage a favor[illegible] since 1850. Beware of Counterfeits! Purchasers of our Wine Bitters are requested to observe the fac-simile of this label and see that the words "MERCADO & SEULLY, SAN FRANCISCO," are engraved on the Government stamp pasted over the cork. [illegible] the only effectual security against the counterfeits.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Weekly Oregonian.

FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent the OREGONIAN ranks first among the papers published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State and its circulation and influence are greater than that of any other two papers combined. As a journal of enterprise in gathering the latest intelligence, and in giving in each issue a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor. It is thoroughly identified with this city and State and neighboring Territories, where the number of its [illegible] and its influence are constantly increasing.

An unflinching advocate of sound Union principles, it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST, but to every thing of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing, AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the [illegible] and settlement of the Northwest.

Its columns contain a carefully prepared digest of

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS

OF

Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

TELEGRAMS FROM THE EAST AND EUROPE

are published as full as in the California [illegible], and put before our readers from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.

Among its corps of writers are [illegible] correspondents at New York and Washington City, men who, having lived in this State, are able to write on Eastern affairs, both politically and [illegible] from an Oregon stand point.

Its Literary and General Selections are from the best sources.

EXTENDED AND RELIABLE

Commercial Reports

are furnished every week, giving the Financial, Dry Goods, Hardware, and General Market Reports of Portland, and the [illegible] by Telegraph of the San Francisco and New York markets. These [illegible] known [illegible] to be the most [illegible] in the State.

In every department it will be, as it has been, the foremost in the State in the field of [illegible] firmly established it will go forward with [illegible] new plans for improvement and usefulness and hopes to gain [illegible] and support.

TERMS:

One Year	$3 00.
Six Months	2 00.
Three Months	1 00.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN has been a favorite [illegible] for [illegible] to friends in the East. It will be mailed from the office at subscription rates.

Subscribers will find on each [illegible] with their [illegible] the date on which their subscriptions expire, as entered on our books. In [illegible], the names of subscriber and post office should be distinctly written.

All papers are discontinued at the end of the time for which they have been paid, the date of which is always printed with the name each week.

☞ REMIT BY MAIL AT OUR RISK in presence of Postmaster, or pay to the nearest authorized agent.

We ask our friends to aid us in extending the circulation of the OREGONIAN in every direction.
